

NRHA awards FRHT the Stagecoach Volunteers Award

The National Railway Heritage Awards Ceremony took place yesterday, 4th December at the Merchant Taylors' Hall in the City of London.

The Ferryhill Railway Heritage Trust won the Stagecoach Volunteers Award. HRH Princess Royal presented the plaque and a cheque for £2000 to the Trust's Chairman, Dr Jon Tyler.

The photograph below includes Emma Knight, Group Head of Media and Public Affairs, representing the sponsors, Stagecoach Group.

The award was made in recognition of the restoration of the Ferryhill Turntable Restoration.

The Trust is grateful for the sponsorship of the award by the Stagecoach Group and to Caledonian Sleepers who sponsored travel to and from the prize giving.

